Gambling 6 Per Cent., Business 8 Per Cent. From an Elephant's Tail Go Back 27,000 Years

—By Arthur Brisbane—

(Copyright, 1920)

Bankers are interested in the business welfare of the United States.

Their prosperity can be no greater than business men's prosperity. Therefore they are deeply interested in anything that menaces business, as the rising money market menaces it today.

On Wednesday commercial loans in Wall street were made at the rate of 8 per cent., and stock brokers' loans at 6 per cent. If a man went to Wall street to gamble, playing some good stock "short," or some worthless stock "long," the broker could borrow the gambling money at 6 per cent.

If a business man wanted money to develop industry and employ labor, he had to pay EIGHT per cent. That is an unhealthy condition, bad for the country, bad for banks, bad for business and bad for labor.

A lady, described as "Madelon La Varre, French beauty and dancer," is among us. Around her ankle (her advertising agent deserves congratulations) the lady wears an amulet made of hair taken from the tail of an African elephant. Never does she go forth without this "porte bonheur," which in French means "luck carrier."

Luck there may be in the hair of an African elephant's tail, but a certain hero, who expected to make a journey to the White House on the back of the Republican elephant can testify that there is no luck in Republican elephant ivory soap. This kind of elephant ivory will be classed hereafter not as a "porte bonheur," but a first-class hoodoo.

Dr. A. I. Logan says two interesting things, both false. He says you can decide the sex of an unborn child and confer the gift of genius upon that child if father and mother begin thinking about it intensely twenty-seven months before the child is born.

Nothing, fortunately, can influence the sex of a child. Men are selfish egotists, women fond and feeble. Except for nature's wisdom every child would be a boy, to flatter the foolish father.

As for going back twenty-seven months to produce genius, that won't work. Go back 27,000 years and there will be a better prospect. There is a difference of more than 27,000 years between the high type of white man and the low type of savage.

Take from the equator average savages, allow no mixture of better blood, you might breed for ten thousand years and you wouldn't have at the end a human being capable of real thought. Thought represents more than 100,000 years of effort.

The most important thing is real affection between father and mother, especially the mother's respect for the father—a good many fathers, through their own fault, lack it. Hence inferior children.

Hunting in the jungle by tiger killers and hunting in the city by thieves are not unalike.

Tiger hunters tie a young goat to a stake, it bleats, the tiger comes and is shot.

In the big city jungle, Helen F. Lunnie, aged fifteen, now held by the Children's Society, testifies that she was sent out on the streets. When a man talked to her she lured him to a lonesome place. There he was knocked on the head and robbed. The tiger that wanted to eat the young goat and the man knocked on the head in the lonely spot are equally entitled to sympathy.

When silver was going up in price, Europe wanted great quantities of it. The simple-minded, to put it mildly, government of the United States, proceeded to sell hundreds of millions of silver dollars to oblige Europe, and Europe made the profit.

Now silver is going down in price, and that worries Europe. So immediately the United States government, "under the Pitmann act," offers a dollar an ounce for silver, which is twenty cents above the market price. Thus, when silver was valuable Europe could get ours cheap. And now, when Europe is worried because silver has gone down, poor, foolish Uncle Sam is hurrying into the market with his pocketbook to pay more than it is worth.

Lloyd George and Krassin, representative of Bolshevik Russia, sang duets, so Universal Service says.

Krassin played the music of Welsh songs, Lloyd George sang them and Krassin joined in. Wonderful man, Lloyd George. A while ago he was singing "Star Spangled Banner" and "Columbia Rules the Waves" duets, with Woodrow Wilson. Now he is singing with Krassin, and soon England will be trading with Krassin.

Great Britain is lucky to have such a man as Lloyd George. There are few duets that he cannot sing. Our government knows only one tune.

BRUTAL '3D DEGREE' IS CHARGED

Byron Pettibone, Alleged Wife-Slayer, Forced to Confess, It Is Said

Bennington, Vt., June 18.—Boston detectives who secured the confession of Byron Madison Pettibone to the murder of his wife were assailed for alleged brutality and third degree methods by Pettibone's lawyers today.

Attorney J. K. Batchelder declared the detectives obtained the confession after a "star chamber" session with the suspect that lasted two hours and terminated when Pettibone in sheer physical weakness admitted the poisoning. Pettibone later repudiated the alleged confession.

The credibility of the confession will be attacked when the case comes to trial, the lawyer said.

ARRAIGNMENT MONDAY.

Pettibone will be arraigned in lower court Monday, will be before the special Grand Jury Tuesday, and will probably be on trial within a week.

Miss Helen Irene Guillow, the pretty girl who as Pettibone's alleged sweetheart has become a central figure in the case, still maintains that he is innocent.

In his alleged confession the authorities say Pettibone admitted administering a quantity of strychnia sulphate to his wife, Eva Bond Pettibone, in a glass of salts on the night of April 6.

Love for the Guillow girl is said by the police to have been the motive for the alleged murder.

Both Pettibone and the Guillow girl broke down and cried when the latter visited her sweetheart in the county jail for the first time since his arrest.

GIRL PLEDGES LOYALTY.

"Byron I love you more than ever and I'll remain by you until you have been found innocent of this awful charge," declared Miss Guillow as she stood in front of the accused man's cell.

Pettibone, embracing his sweetheart through the bars of his cell door, replied with consoling words of cheer and encouragement.

Miss Guillow, who is held in $1,000 bonds as a material witness, shows little outward concern over the tragedy. She has not secluded herself and has made repeated trips to the office of Pettibone's attorneys, spurning the remarks of pedestrians.

Counsel for Pettibone declare that they will waive a lower court hearing and will submit a transcript of the testimony to the grand jury at Manchester next Tuesday.

DROPS CASE AGAINST MAN DEAD TEN YEARS

Judge Sullivan, in Charlestown Court today, dismissed a charge against "Frank H. Wellington" for hoisting a piano from a window of a house on Polk street without a license because that man has been dead ten years. A policeman who saw the piano being taken out asked one of the workmen to show his permit, and there being none, he asked the man who he worked for. The firm of F. H. Wellington & Co., on Main street, is now run by a son of Frank H.

CHARLESTOWN COURT HAS ONLY SEVEN CASES

Only seven persons were arraigned in Charlestown Court today as an aftermath to the Bunker Hill Day celebrations, six of them for drunkenness. This is a record, as usually there are more than 100 cases. In 1910, there were 172, of which 165 were for drunkenness. Two of today's cases were placed on file, two on probation and two were given suspended sentences. The other case was for a minor infringement.

600 Ellis Cattle Go Under Hammer

More than 600 of the finest blooded cattle, owned by former Senator George H. Ellis, president of the Boston City Club, went under the auctioneer's hammer today at Wauwinet Farm, West Newton.

Prices ranging between $65 and $17[illegible] head were paid by the bidders, prominent stock farm men from all over the State. A total of over 3,000 quarts of milk a day has been produced by the herd.

Ellis is quitting the stock raising business on account of inability to obtain farm labor.

FATHER TO FIGHT FOR MEADS

Visits Young Dartmouth Slayer as Officials Hunt Rum Runners

Hanover, N. H., June 18.—Prepared to stand by his son to the end and determined to take complete charge of the details of the legal battle for the defence of his boy, Albert H. Meads arrived here today from Chicago.

He went to the Grafton County Jail at Woodsville, where Robert T. Meads is held without bail for the slaying of Henry E. Maroney, a fellow student at Dartmouth College.

"More than anything," the father said, "I want above all to see my son and talk with him. After I hear his story I might be able to talk. Until then I can only say that I will stand by my boy to the end."

Greatly affected by the tragedy which has come into the life of his son, the father refused to discuss the details of the case.

VISITS SON AT JAIL.

Mr. Meads is corporation counsel for the National Cash Register Company with headquarters in Chicago.

While the father was visiting the accused student at the jail, Federal officials were combing the district between here and the Canadian border for the rum runners who supplied students at Dartmouth with the liquor responsible for the worst tragedy ever enacted in a New England college.

The authorities are working on the theory that Meads was the agent of one or more persons seeking to profit by the high prices of liquor.

They have found a cache at the college grounds where Meads had stored nearly a hundred quarts of whiskey which he brought into the college for sale, in his automobile. Working back with painstaking care from the scene of the tragedy, the Federal officers have already located the scarlet trail of the rum runners

COOLIDGE'S VETO SENT TO LEADER OF "DRYS"

Governor Coolidge's stand on the alcohol content of beverages was sent today to Virgil G. Hinshaw, chairman of the prohibition national committee. Mr. Hinshaw wired Governor Coolidge asking whether he favored increasing the percentage of alcohol in beverages to more than half of 1 per cent. The Governor's secretary, Henry F. Long, acknowledged receipt of the telegram and inclosed a copy of Mr. Coolidge's veto of the bill which would legalize the sale of 2.75 per cent. beer in Massachusetts had the United States Supreme Court handed down a favorable decision. The Governor was at his office today. His cold is much better.

SCHOONER ASHORE OFF CAPE

Ship Eva A. Dannenhower, Swept Onto Beach, May Be Total Loss

The Canadian three-masted schooner Eva A. Dannenhower, formerly owned in this city, went ashore on Sagamore Beach east of the Cape Cod Canal today.

Captain Neves and the crew of five men were taken ashore by the Canal coast guard, who fought their way through a heavy sea which was breaking over the schooner.

The Dannenhower, bound from Apple River, Nova Scotia, for New York with a cargo of lumber and piling, entered the bay last night and anchored preparatory to taking a tow through the canal today. During the night one anchor chain parted in the stress of the storm, and the other failing to hold the schooner was swept up on the beach. According to advices received here, there is little possibility of saving the craft, which was said to be in an exposed position.

The schooner, of 217 tons net, was built in Camden, Me., in 1882, and was sold a short time ago to T. G. White of Sussex, New Brunswick. It was understood the vessel carried no insurance.

CHARGE OF MURDER FOLLOWS SHOOTING

Arrested at the point of a revolver by Patrolman Harry Cooper of the Joy street station, John Graco of North Russell street, West End, was held today charged with the murder of Frank Pirro of No. 64 Nashua street, West End. Arraigned before Judge Parmenter, Graco pleaded not guilty and was held without bail until Wednesday. The shooting took place on Hanover street, ust off Scollay square, after an argment in which the slayer alleged Pirro tried to rob him of money and jewels. Graco also claimed that the dead man fired the first shot.

GEORGE W. PERKINS IS DEAD

War Work Fatal to Noted Financier, Who Expires in Sanitarium

Stamford, Ct., June 18.—George W. Perkins, former partner of J. P. Morgan & Co., and one of the founders of the Progressive party, died today in Stamford Hall Sanitarium.

He suffered a nervous breakdown some time ago and was brought here for treatment from his home in New York city.

Perkins had been confined in the sanitarium since June 6, having been brought here at the instance of his family under a law which permits the confinement of persons believed to be insane for ten days without the necessity of formal commitment papers.

Mr. Perkins leaves a widow, who, before her marriage in 1889 was Miss Eveline Ball, daughter of Flemen Ball, of Cleveland, Ohio, and two children, Dorothy and George W. Perkins, Jr.

George Walbridge Perkins had a career more dramatic than any hero of the wildest Alger book.

Entering the employ of the New York Life Insurance Company in 1879 as a "boy" in the Chicago office, he received $25 a month on condition that he make no blunders. He left the company in 1901 because his $75,000 annually was too little, and J. P. Morgan offered bigger opportunities.

Mr. Perkins was one of the recognized spokesmen for big business, and his business connections included the International Harvester Company, the United States Steel Corporation, the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railway Company, the Erie Railroad, and many other enterprises.

He became a national figure in 1912 as "angel" of the Bull Moose party, which he fostered after the late Theodore Roosevelt left the Republicans.

At the outbreak of the war he took

To Offer $25,000 for Kidnaped Baby

By International News Service.

Norristown, Pa., June 18.—Friends of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Coughlin, parents of Blakely Coughlin, who was stolen from his crib fifteen days ago, were today arranging for the pooling of large sums for a gigantic reward to be offered for the return of the child and the apprehension and conviction of the kidnapers. It is believed that the amount will exceed $25,000, and may reach $50,000.

Three prominent Norristown men have already expressed their willingness to contribute $4,000 apiece. In referring to the swindle which Mr. Coughlin revealed yesterday, Chief of Police Charles Eiler today declared that the man who swindled the father of the kidnaped baby out of $12,000 on the pretence that the child would be returned "had nothing to do with the abduction."

Chief Eiler is convinced that "the crank," as the swindler styled himself, is a clever crook who gleaned details of the case after the abduction had been perpetrated.

While every effort is being made to catch the crook the search for the baby is not being neglected. Secret service operatives have begun work on the case and are co-operating with a small army of detectives already on the job. Major L. G. Adams, commander of the Pennsylvania State Constabulary, is only waiting for the word to assign additional troopers to the investigation.

Shot Fired by Jealous Rival

New York, June 18.—Joseph Bowne Elwell, turfman, clubman and "protector" of beautiful women, was slain by a man, but a woman inspired the crime.

That was the declaration made today by Assistant District Attorney John F. Joyce, disposing of the first theory that the murder was actually done by one of the many women "friends" of the gay clubman.

The man's identity is suspected. His arrest, together with that of the woman at the bottom of the strange case, may be brought about within a few hours.

At the same time Mr. Joyce announced that the identity of the young woman who spent the night in Elwell's bachelor apartments forty-eight hours before the crime had been discovered, and that she had been interviewed by the police.

Admitting under gruelling cross-examination that she had been Elwell's guest, the girl has tearfully denied all connection with the crime, and denied seeing the murdered clubman the morning of the murder.

She also denied that the lingerie found in the rooms of Elwell's palatial home belonged to her, and corroborated the later police theory that it was kept there by the slain man for the accommodation of women whom he frequently entertained overnight.

District Attorney Swann personally questioned the girl today, as well as grilling Marie Larsen, Elwell's housekeeper, and Edwin Rhodes, his chauffeur.

Declaring that the housekeeper has been a reluctant witness, he announced that he would ask for her commitment without bail until she

Manchester, N. H., June 18.—A resolution calling upon the New Hampshire delegates to the Democratic National Convention to oppose any platform plank which would pledge the United States to join in any League of Nations with any country which is notoriously violating the right of self-determination of small nations was adopted here by Father Francis A. Mulvanity Branch, Friends of Irish Freedom. The branch has 700 members.

President Edward F. Kean, John Healy and City Clerk William J. O'Brien were appointed a delegation to hand the resolutions personally to former Congressman Eugene E. Reed, Commissioner Quirk and Gordon Woodbury, the three Manchester men who are members of the delegation. The resolutions follow:

"Whereas, President Wilson proclaimed in our behalf a definition of democracy which included as its most essential element the right of

Boston	747,923

Boston today dropped to seventh position among the cities of the United States when the populations of Detroit and Cleveland were announced by the Census Bureau as 993,739 and 796,836, respectively.

Apparently firmly intrenched in fifth place, this city was forced to give way to the two Middle West municipalities, which showed amazing growth during the last ten years.

St. Louis, for many years the fourth largest city, was also superseded, although showing an increase much larger than Boston's, and by the latest figures is now in the sixth position.

BOSTON PASSED BY TWO CITIES

News of Boston's drop in standing was received with disappointment by members of the Chamber of Commerce and others who hoped that fifth place would be retained pending action on a request for a recount.

They claimed that the Federal census figures did not agree with those of the city and State, and that the increase of 77,338 or 11½ per cent over the 1910 returns was incorrect.

According to today's announcements, Detroit showed an increase since 1910 of 527,972, or 113.4 per cent, while Cleveland gained in the same time 236,177 or 42.1 per cent.

At the same time it was stated that Marblehead had suffered a decrease of 11, or 0.2 per cent, the latest figures being 7,324.

When informed that Boston had dropped into seventh position in the national census race, Lieutenant-Governor Channing H. Cox expressed amazement.

"We must keep Boston to the front," said the Lieutenant-Governor. "She must not fall backward in population. We must maintain the prestige in history Boston has always held. To do this we must develop to the fullest extent the industries of the city. We must be boosters and not knockers.

"More thriving industries mean more employment. More employment means keeping the population at a high level. We must make Boston a city of homes. We must have lower rents and increased prosperity. Our first duty is to make Boston what she was and then keep her there."

TRAIL RUM GANG AT DARTMOUTH

Liquor Sold at College Bought at Cheap Price Across Canadian Line

from the Canadian border. The liquor was all a Canadian brand.

Crile Wise, the freshman who aided in the temporary escape of Meads from his dormitory rooms after the shooting, is still in the care of Sheriff Claude Murray, awaiting the arrival of the $1,000 bail in which he is held as a material witness.

It is expected the young man will be turned over to the Federal authorities for having liquor in his possession. A quart of Canadian whiskey was found in his room.

The investigation of the authorities has thus far uncovered an astounding condition at Dartmouth College relative to the smuggling of liquor. The tragedy, which has cast its shadow over the commencement of 1920, is but the climax of months of activity on the part of the smugglers, who sold the liquor for $20 a quart. They paid $2.75 a quart for it in Montreal.

While hundreds of parents and friends of the students are arriving to attend the annual exercises of commencement, a little group—the father, mother and brother and intimate friends of the murdered senior—escorted the body to the railroad station here for removal to West Medford, where the Maroneys live.

ELUDED CUSTOMS GUARDS.

At the same time from Chicago the father of Meads, attorney for the National Cash Register Co., was on his way to this little town to meet his son facing a life fight for his rash act. The father of Crile Wise has also left Akron, O., to see what can be done in his son's defence for violating the Volstead act.

Ingenious methods were used by the rum runners to get their whiskey into the college. Custom guards were eluded, it is believed, by running some across the border at night, while on other occasions the smugglers deliberately fastened it beneath their autos.

The lot of seventy-two bottles which Meads brought to the college last Saturday was conveyed thusly. Once it arrived Meads, and possibly a confederate, placed the bottles in a cache in North Massachusetts, the dormitory in which he had his quarters. The story which Howard W. Whitaker, Maroney's roommate and a witness of the shooting, told of the tragic affair led to the discovery of the cache.

The first full details of the story were drawn from the participants of the fateful proceeding. These, with the result of the autopsy, disclosed that Maroney had taken probably not more than one drink of the liquor they secured in the rooms of Meads, although the shooting did not occur until one o'clock Wednesday morning.

Century Brand Silk Stockings, ½ Price

Three weeks ago they were selling at 3.15 Pair

Now Selling At 1.57 Pair Every One Perfect

Black, White, Navy, Chocolate. Every Size in Each Color

12,000 Pairs Twelve thousand pairs of stockings is a great number. Not often is a sale of such scope attempted. Naturally one would like to know the reason for this sale—why is the price so low and how did we get them? HERE IS THE STORY:

This manufacturer—one of the leading hosiery makers in this country, and one of the very best—had ordered new sets of machines in order to keep up with the ever-increasing demand for his product. Two models of machines were ordered, one slightly finer grade than the other. However, deliveries are not always according to instructions, and in this instance the finer gauge machines were delivered first. A manufacturer cannot afford to keep machines idle—and rather than do that, this maker set about tuning up these machines on one of his regular qualities, one of our standard Century Brand numbers, in anticipation of a bigger outlet for this quality. In fact, he prepared twelve thousand pairs of them in advance of his immediate needs. Suddenly came the drop in price of raw silk—a big drop—and these stockings are not now worth what they were three weeks ago.

Instead of $3.15 they are $1.57

Points:

1—Whereas they were 3.15—now they are 1.57.
2—They are Century Brand quality.
3—They are all—every pair—perfect.
4—They are all—every pair—full fashioned.
5—They are absolutely pure silk—there is no false impression of weight, as they contain no tin or iron.
6—They have mercerized tops, soles, heels and toes.
7—Soles are double thickness, toes and heels are reinforced.
8—They are in the four best colors, the most in demand at the moment. Black, white, navy blue, chocolate or seal brown.
9—Every size in each color and plenty of them; 8½, 9, 9½, 10, 10½.
10—Should you by any chance find them to fall short of your expectations, they can be exchanged and if dissatisfied your money will be refunded, or account credited.
11—At 1.57 per pair they are lower in price even than today's lower cost of silk would warrant.
12—They will not deteriorate in wearing value by being put away for future use.

DEALING in a big way with large manufacturers of dresses—manufacturers that have large quantities of the very best materials, proper styles, that make up goods in the best manner and that are broad-minded enough to have good business judgment and know how to make a big deal in dresses: Such is the manufacturer from whom we got this wonderful lot of misses' dresses—he is a maker of fine dresses who gives his entire attention to making cotton dresses at this time of the year.

Such a manufacturer has a great deal at stake: the trade of the best houses in this country—not only the specialty houses but the large stores which handle the finer quality cotton dresses. He had some hundreds of misses' dresses which had just come through his factory. We made a trade so that we bought 365 dresses, making our own selection of his very best styles. We were able to buy this lot of dresses so that we could sell them for 12.50. These dresses usually sold for 15.00, 18.50, 22.50 and 25.00. Before finishing the transaction he wanted to know what we would do on misses' less expensive dresses. Of these we took three hundred and ninety-three, which were made to sell from 10.50 to 12.00; we succeeded in buying these so we could sell them for 7.50. They are a wonderful lot of dresses and they are priced remarkably low.

500 Cotton Dresses for Women

Values About 10.75, 12.50, 16.50, 18.50

A BIG DEAL IN WOMEN'S DRESSES. It was plain business sense to go to the same big manufacturer for a bargain in Women's Cotton Dresses, if one was to be had. And we secured from him between three and four hundred Cotton Dresses for Women, all of the same fine materials, at the same great reduction in price. These women's dresses are mostly in fine quality figured voiles, in best designs and colors, and of course the styles are absolute. The quantity is not so great as we could wish, as the dresses were made to sell for 16.50, 18.50, and at 12.50 are certain to go quickly; so we have added nearly one hundred dresses made from our own fine quality voiles.

In the very great range of Cotton Dresses which this maker produces we found a number which we thought we would like to sell at 10.75. As these were nearly as fine as the 12.50 purchase, it was a matter of some difficulty to obtain them at our price, but as we offered to take two hundred voile and gingham dresses, the maker let us have them. And to round out this great assortment of Women's Cotton Dresses we secured from another leading maker over one hundred dresses formerly 10.75 and 12.50, which have gone in at 7.50.

Women's Silk Dresses

Showing the Possibilities of Our Own Custom Dressmaking Department

Taffeta, Georgette, Mignonette, Foulard, Crepe de Chine. Values 45.00 to 60.00

39.50

IN order to produce women's silk dresses of fine quality of material, best style and workmanship, to sell at a low price, we took a quantity of our own silks and some of our best models to our own workroom. By putting the entire force on them and practising utmost economy in making, we finished them at the least possible expense and can offer at 39.50 dresses that would sell in the market at from about 45.00 to 60.00 if made up a few at a time.

Wonderful Foulard Dresses

From Our Own Materials

Value About 45.00

35.00

ONE of our large manufacturers of dresses found during the past two months his dress business had not been up to his expectation. We took beautiful foulard from our own regular stock and told him if he would make up a number of dresses in stunning models of our own selection and make the price just about enough to cover actual cost of manufacture, we would give him a good order. The dresses have just been received, and at a glance one can see they are dresses that would ordinarily sell for about 45.00. By using our own material, putting it in at about cost, and because the manufacturer made them up at little or no profit, we are able to sell them for 35.00.

THIRD PARTY EXPECTS TO SWEEP NORTHWEST BY NEW DEAL

COALITION EMBRACES FARMERS

Committee of 48 Announces Negotiations With Non-Partisan League

Chicago, June 18.—Third Party headquarters, as the local offices of the Committee of Forty-eight have come to be known, announces steps toward coalition with the Non-Partisan (farmers) League which would mean political control of the entire Northwest for the new party. Forty-eighters claim the deal is as good as made.

The Leaguers, it is understood, are asking a place on the ticket for their Governor of North Dakota, Lynn J. Frazier, and incorporation of their political ideas in the third party platform.

With the Leaguers will come the Labor party which has grown to considerable proportions in the Middle West in late years. The farmers and the laboring men are already working politically under a co-operative agreement. Illinois labor leaders today are campaigning in North Dakota for Governor Frazier's re-election.

Amos Pinchot, of the Committee of Forty-eight, has undertaken to bring the old Progressives in under the third party banner.

In their movement on the Progressive camp they have been encouraged by Senator Johnson's reticence in the matter of supporting the Republican party nominee.

James M. G. Fay, State secretary of the Hiram Johnson Club of Massachusetts, gave out the following statement:

"In accordance with the plans adopted at the meeting held in Chicago last Saturday, the Hiram Johnson Club of Massachusetts will, immediately following the adjournment of the Democratic convention, take a ballot of its members to decide whether the club will support the Republican or the Democratic nominee or an independent candidate. At the same time delegates will be chosen for the coming convention in Chicago.

WOULDN'T GO TO CHURCH; IS SHOT

Accomac, Va., June 18.—Charged with shooting Roland Parks, seventeen years old, under the compulsory church attendance ordinance—an ancient Tangier Island local law intended to prevent loitering in public during church hours — Constable Charles C. Connorton went on trial here today.

The case has caused considerable excitement among residents of the little island. Citizens from Maryland and Virginia have traveled far to attend the trial and feeling is at high tension.

ARMY OFFICERS PASS PHYSICAL TEST HERE

Eleven officers of the regular army were examined for promotion today at army headquarters. Among the officers who were put through a rigid physical test were: Colonels James T. Tilford, Edward Carpenter, T. K. Spencer, S. G. Shartle, F. H. Buchan, Guy Palmer, A. W. Foreman and R. W. Kingman; Major Homer B. Grant and Captains John W. Hyatt and Ellery T. Niles. The examining surgeon found the applicants to be in excellent physical condition.

ORDERS REFERENDUM ON MAINE WOMEN'S VOTE

Augusta, Me., June 18.—Governor Milliken today ordered a referendum on the question of women voting for Presidential electors. The matter will be voted on at the regular State elections in September. If the vote is in the affirmative, women will exercise the right of suffrage in November. The prohibition amendment will not be submitted to popular vote.

'Real Man's Statement,' Hearst Says of Wood's Reply to Butler

Good for General Wood. His fine statement in reply to Nicholas Murray Butler's contemptible attack will make him many friends.

The general's statement rings with honesty, sincerity and virility. It is a real man's statement and it tells the plain truth about Butler.

This man Butler is nothing but "a little brother of the rich," or rather a little butler of the rich since he is in all respects the liveried lackey of privilege.

He is among the meanest of the parasites that suck their sustenance from the predatory interests because the service he renders his masters is a dangerous betrayal of democracy. His task is to endeavor to direct the steps of the finest of our youth away from high service to the republic and to their fellow citizens and into the menial service of wealth and privilege he himself pursues and glories in.

He has driven many professors of progressive thought out of Columbia College and after exodus of such teachers of competence and character he has passed the hat among his wealthy patrons for contributions, happy to make up in money what he has lost to his college in courage and conscience, ability and honesty.

It is gratifying to true Americans everywhere to have General Wood denounce this poseur and pretender as the "fakir" and falsifier that he really is.

There are many citizens who were not for General Wood for President who would have been honored to be for him if they had known that he could handle the pen as skillfully as the sword and utter such admirable sentiments in such vigorous American style.

TREES TORN UP BY STORM

Buildings Damaged, Boats Are Carried Away and Lights Are Put Out

Trees and telegraph poles were uprooted, small buildings damaged and boats torn from their moorings by the storm which swept Greater Boston early today.

Traffic was delayed for hours while workmen removed a huge tree which fell at No. 90 Princeton street, East Boston. The fire department was summoned to assist in the work of removal.

Boats were torn from moorings at Revere Beach, and several small stands along the boulevard were [illegible] [illegible] awnings were torn down by the wind all over the city. [illegible] [illegible] are lights were put out of commission by the damage to the wires.

Storm Sweeps Plymouth; Lightning Starts Fires

Plymouth, June 18.—The storm yesterday and today was one of the worst that has visited Plymouth in years, two lightning bolts travelling for many blocks up the streets, endangering the old Howland mansion.

The waves in the harbor were so high that all shipping was stopped. Two coal barges, en route to the canal, came in till the storm ceased. The east gale here reached a fifty-mile-an-hour velocity.

Despite the downpour of rain, the greatest danger was from the lightning, which set fire to the branches of trees, greatly endangering many dwellings. Fighting the fire, Chief Hiller, Police Officers Bell and Stillings, Willert Terry, Walter Richards and Thomas Reagan kept the flames from the old Howland mansion, McGee's stable, and other places that were threatened.

ROBBERS BLOW OPEN 3 SAFES

Get $1,500 at Springfield and $50 in Chicopee; Office Is Wrecked

Springfield, June 18.—Burglars during the night blew open three safes, one in the office of the Blair Manufacturing Company, at No. 312 Birnie avenue, securing about $1,300 in Liberty Bonds and $200 in cash, and two other safes at the Bay State Elevator Company plant in Chicopee, just across the line.

From the elevator company they secured but $50 from one safe and nothing from the other.

The large quantity of nitro-glycerine used at the Blair Company wrecked the place completely. Some of the blankets used to deaded the sound of the explosion were found tightly imbedded in the walls. The robbers' tools were left behind.

The police believe that the Chicopee job was done first. The break at the Blair place was discovered early today by Manager Adelbert B. Case.

350 ITALIANS SLAIN BY PASHA'S AVENGERS

London, June 18.—A widespread movement to avenge the murder of Essad Pasha, Albanian leader, has broken out in various parts of Italy and Albania, according to dispatches from Belgrade.

Thousands of inhabitants of Tirana formed an organized mob, massacred 330 Italian prisoners and hauled twenty-four others out of a train at Kracher and put them to death.

Finds Wilson at Work With Old Time Vigor

New York, June 18.—Louis Seibold, in the World today, described his impressions of the physical condition of President Wilson as follows:

"During the three hours I spent with the President I saw him transact the important functions of his office with his old-time decisiveness, method and keenness of intellectual appraisement. I heard him dictate his decisions on matters of great government importance with a facility of expression and directness of meaning that indicated no impairment of the efficiency of the mental machine that has known only the hardest kind of work for forty years.

"I talked with him for upward of an hour, in which he discussed a wide range of subjects, and concerning which he expressed himself not only with characteristic Wilsonian vigor, but established the even more gratifying survival of the saving sense of humor.

"I saw him walk from one apartment to another on Tuesday, and on Wednesday, accompanied as he walked with no more help than a cane, none too stout, from the elevator of the White House to his motor car. The cane upon which his right hand found support was the sort of stick he used to thrash through the turnip patches when he was president of Princeton.

"His use of it on Wednesday accentuated the heritage of his long illness, yet the halting movement of the motor agencies of his left leg impressed me as being far less pronounced than that which accompanies the movements of General Leonard Wood. There was no dragging of the left foot, as there would be if the President's left leg were completely paralyzed. There was a tendency to lift it a trifle higher and in advance of the sturdy right limb.

"In appearance the President seemed the same as on his return from Paris. He has gained more than twenty pounds in weight during the last two months."

ENTIRE TOWN HUNTS WOMAN

Wife of Kingston (N. H.) Academy Janitor Vanishes After Nervous Collapse

Kingston, N. H., June 18.—Business was suspended here today to enable everybody to search for Mrs. Alfonse Dominick, 55 years old, wife of the janitor of Kingston Academy, who disappeared from her home at 10 o'clock last night while suffering from nervous collapse.

The two shoe factories shut down and all the stores were closed in order to organize searching posses. It was one of the most remarkable demonstrations ever conducted in this section of the State. Students led the search. While scores searched the fields and woods and dragged the lake, women and girls trudged through rain-soaked grass and brush hunting for Mrs. Dominick.

The searching parties were augmented by many alumni, who came to town to attend the commencement exercises yesterday.

CATCH 2 WANTED IN BOSTON

Suspects Said to Be Men Who Robbed Letter Boxes of Checks and Raised Them

William E. Boland, alias William J. Gordon, and Charles Swersky, alias alias Frank Gordon, arrested by the Pinkertons in New York for rifling letter boxes, forging and check raising, are wanted in this city for similar offences.

Boland, who is an alleged professional forger, has been arrested seven times and committed once, according to the police, and is said to be one of the best free-hand forgers in the country. Swersky, the police claim, has been arrested five times, has three convictions to his credit, and has served seven and a half years in Sing Sing.

They were said to have made a practice of following letter carriers making deliveries in business districts shortly after the first of each month. After rifling the letter boxes of mail, the two men, the police say, returned to their room, went through the letters for checks, and changed the amounts. They then forged endorsements and cashed the checks.

"NORMALITY" PLEA BY WALTON LUNCH COMPANY

A "normality" certificate was petitioned for at the office of the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration today by the Walton Lunch Company. On September 6, 1919, 200 of the company's waiters and countermen went on strike to secure higher wages and recognition of their union. The effect of a "normality" certificate would be to permit the lunch company to advertise for help without referring to the strike. A hearing has been set for Tuesday.

GIRL WON'T TELL SLAYER'S NAME

Was Ordered From Elwell's Home by Man Suspected of the Murder

tells all she knows of the killing of her employer.

Mrs. Larsen has admitted concealing a woman's night robe, boudoir cap and other apparel found in Elwell's room the morning of the murder. She has until now denied knowing the name of the mysterious owner, but today admitted that she might possibly be able to supply the authorities with this information.

Following this and other developments, the police were more optimistic than at any time since they took up the search for Elwell's murderer.

Authorities searched the apartment of Victor von Schlegel, divorced husband of a young woman mentioned in the case, to discover a revolver from which the bullet which caused the noted bridge expert's death might have been fired.

Assistant District Attorney Dooling personally headed the investigation, which resulted in the discovery of a thirty-eight calibre revolver hanging in a holster in a closet adjoining von Schlegel's bed chamber. The bullet found beside the body of the murdered man, and the shell discovered on the floor of his study, where he was shot by an unknown assailant, were from a 45 calibre gun.

CONFISCATE REVOLVER.

Detectives confiscated Von Schlegel's revolver, however, for further investigation, and it was intimated legal proceedings against him might become necessary under the Sullivan law. It was said he had no permit for possession of the gun.

Von Schlegel was detained for six hours in the District Attorney's office, where he was examined regarding his every move since the evening preceding the crime. The authorities said he had answered all questions frankly and had fully satisfied them of the truthfulness of the story he told, apparently clearing himself of suspicion.

Meanwhile turfmen and followers of horses, now at Jamaica, but who were in Kentucky at the time Elwell is reported to have had a distressing affair which caused him to leave so hurriedly he forgot to pay his hotel bill, have accepted the theory that Elwell was murdered to avenge some woman's honor there.

Half a dozen men who have known Elwell intimately in his track connections said they do not believe he was ever guilty of an action on the turf that would have made him a mark for the assassin's gun.

Developments indicate that Mrs. Larsen will eventually provide the key to the mystery. She has been examined repeatedly since the murder and long continued questioning has caused her to reluctantly give more and more information about the manner of life and the affairs of her late employer.

Detectives investigated a report that a man and woman were driven in a taxicab to the Elwell house between 5 and 6 o'clock on the morning of the murder. It was said that the chauffeur heard a woman scream after the two had entered and he departed without waiting for them.

WIN RACE FROM BOSTON IN MIDNIGHT WEDDING

Nashua, N. H., June 18.—William T. Wiggin of Charlestown, Mass., and Miss Winifred Larnard of Wellesley were married here just before midnight by Rev. Charles M. Kennaugh after routing him from bed. They wanted to be married before midnight as the date was of special significance to them. They planned to marry in Massachusetts, but found that the five-day law would make it impossible to wed on the date they cherished. Both were much pleased when they won their race against time from Boston. They laughed as the clock struck the midnight hour.

The Man Who Loved Good Desserts

"There goes Edith Bradford," said Mrs. Knowlton as she and Mrs. Winton were sitting on the porch sewing one afternoon. "She and Bob certainly seem happy together."

"I am sure they are," answered Mrs. Winton, "and that reminds me of something funny that happened before they were married. One day Edith came to me in the greatest excitement.

"What am I going to do!" she exclaimed tragically. "Bob's mother has just told me he could live on cornstarch pudding and blanc mange, and I simply cannot make either one."

She was so serious about it, it was laughable.

"Never mind," I reassured her. "There is Puddine."

"Puddine?" she questioned. "What is it?"

"A most wonderful dessert—rich and creamy and luscious."

"How do you make it?" said Edith.

"Why, you just add sugar and milk, either fresh or condensed, and boil it for three minutes. Out it comes, after it's cool, a firm, creamy mold of luscious, rich dessert."

"Well, I'm certainly glad to know it," sighed Edith. "Bob's mother is such a wonderful cook!"

"I know you'll both like Puddine," I said; "and it comes in any number of flavors—chocolate, rose, vanilla, almond, spice and several others. And then you can make rich, creamy pie and cake fillings with Puddine, and you can even make ice cream with it.

"I suppose you'll finish, however," said Edith, "by telling me it's expensive and so rich one can't eat much of it anyhow."

I told her that a 15c box served 15 people, and a 10c box seven people and was very wholesome.

Shortly after she was married I was talking to her again. "Oh," Mrs. Winton," she said, "how can I ever thank you? Puddine is wonderful. Bob raves about my desserts, and Puddine has done it all."

WAR WORK FATAL TO PERKINS

Leader of "Big Business" Failed to Recover From Illness Contracted in France

up war work with his customary energy and went to France as a Y. M. C. A. executive.

Intimate friends say that his zeal there caused him to overwork and brought about his breakdown and consequent death.

Mr. Perkins' failing health dated back to an attack of influenza and pneumonia he suffered while in France doing Y. M. C. A. work. His son, George W. Perkins, Jr., said his father had never fully recovered from the double attack.

The first of May Mr. Perkins was removed to a quiet retreat in the Catskill Mountains, but the nervous ailment failed to respond to treatment and on June 5 he was brought to Stamford. "My father was naturally of nervous temperament and had been working towards a nervous breakdown for many years," said the son. "He was greatly weakened by his illness in France and it was upon the advice of his physicians, Dr. Henry Moffatt of Yonkers, N. Y., and Dr. Charles Sumner Fischer of New York city, that he was placed in a secluded sanitarium and his whereabouts kept more or less secret. We wanted to protect him and keep him from disturbance. You have no idea the number of people that wanted to consult with my father about political matters."

RAIN FORCES BANKERS TO GIVE UP EXCURSION

Because of the rain the proposed trip of bankers attending the convention of the American Institute of Banking to Plymouth was abandoned today and a "get-together" meeting was held in Symphony Hall. Moving pictures illustrating various phases of the banking business were shown and speeches were made summing up the work accomplished by the convention. Tonight the visitors leave for New York, where the New York chapter has arranged an elaborate program for tomorrow. Stewart D. Beckley of Dallas, Texas, was elected president and Robert B. Locke of Detroit, formerly of Boston, vice-president, at the business meeting in Huntington Hall.

To Have Curly, Wavy, Hair 'Like Nature's Own'

In three hours you can have just the prettiest curls and waves! And they remain a long time, when liquid silmerine is used before doing up the hair. When the hair is combed out it will be nice and fluffy. Silmerine is perfectly harmless, of course, and is easily applied with a clean tooth brush. It can be obtained at drug stores and at toilet counters generally, directions accompanying each bottle. It serves also as a splendid dressing, keeping the hair soft and glossy.

Silmerine is fine for the outdoor girl, as it prevents the hair from stringing about the face and neck, even when the day is quite warm or windy.

To Remove First Signs of Old Age

"The infallible first sign of age is the sagging cheek muscles," says Mme. Cavalieri, whose fame as a beauty culturist is scarcely less than that as a songstress. "These are more difficult and serious to treat than wrinkles," she continues. "The sagging muscles indicate they have grown too weak to remain in place; they must be assisted, strengthened."

The best way to strengthen them is by bathing the face in a simple lotion made by dissolving an ounce of pure powdered saxolite in a half pint of witch hazel. This creates a freer circulation to the parts, besides causing muscles and skin to contract. Saxolite, procurable at every drug store, has long been known by complexion specialists to possess remarkable tonic and astringent properties, valuable in treating flabby tissue and wrinkles.—Advertisement.

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With Othine—Double Strength

This preparation for the removal of freckles is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of Othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength Othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.—Advertisement.

CALLS LEAGUE AN 'ILLUSION'

Without America It Is Dead, Declares the London Daily Express

By International News Service.

London, June 18.—The League of Nations, in its present form, was denounced by the Daily Express in its leading editorial today.

"It is time to face the truth and cancel our expenditures upon this great illusion," said the Daily Express. "We are forced to recognize that the league is incomplete and that without America it is dead. To discharge its functions would mean the use of all the resources of the British empire in all sorts of petty squabbles. That is not possible. Yet the league has no other means at its disposal.

"To continue the League in its present form is to waste time and money and to raise false hopes at the risk of new struggles in the name of peace."

The Daily Express declares that the case for the League of Nations was lost when the United States refused to enter to guarantee the territorial integrity of the member nations.

"So long as there was hope for a League of Nations covenant that would work the Daily Express was one of its firmest advocates," added the newspaper.

ALLEGED ANARCHIST ORDERED DEPORTED

Washington, June 18.—Assistant Secretary of Labor Post directed the deportation of Robert Elia, an alleged anarchist, who was in confinement with Andrea Salsedo when the latter jumped from the fourteenth story of the Department of Justice Building, Park row.

STONE MAY BE A. F. L. HEAD

Railroad Unions Claim They Have Taken Leadership in American Labor

By International News Service.

Montreal, June 18.—The railroad unions have assumed the dominating role in the American Federation of Labor as a result of their successful fight to have the convention indorse government ownership of railways. Officials of the railroad unions claim that they have now assumed leadership of the American labor movement.

President William Stone of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers is spoken of for the leadership of American labor in the future. Although an "outsider," Stone's influence has been strongly felt in the convention.

There was a division of opinion today as to whether Samuel Gompers would retire as president of the federation because his leadership was repudiated by the convention. Many close to Gompers expressed the belief that the veteran leader would not quit, but would continue to combat the extremists and progressives in the organization.

LIQUOR SEIZED IN LAWRENCE

1,000 Gallons Trailed From New York; Conspiracy and Forgery Charged

Lawrence, June 18.—A thousand gallons of whiskey obtained in New York and transported into this city on a permit to which the name of William J. McCarthy, New England prohibition supervisor, had been forged, was seized in the cellar of a former wholesale liquor house on Common street.

The finding and seizure of this liquor, which was trailed all the way from New York by Federal agents, is said to be the first step toward thwarting a wholesale plot to take thousands of gallons of whiskey out of New York warehouses for distribution in other parts of the country.

The raid and seizure, said to be the largest in New England since the prohibition laws were effected, was conducted by Inspector McCarthy, assisted by five agents from the Boston office.

Arrests are expected momentarily. Warrants have been issued charging conspiracy and not violation of the Volstead act, the usual charge made in liquor seizures. The conspiracy charge develops out of forgery of McCarthy's name.

The permit used to secure and transport the liquor is alleged to have been forged on a blank issued to Philip J. Cantillion, proprietor of the Essex House, he being one of the two men in this city authorized by the Federal agents to sell intoxicating liquor for sacramental and medicinal purposes.

Cedar Chests
A Delightfully Useful Gift for the June Bride

Fragrant Cedar Chests, most brides will agree, are charming wedding presents, but, of course, many prospective brides use them months ahead of the actual ceremony as particularly happy and convenient Hope chests. Possessing to a rare degree all the attributes of usefulness they are also able to add considerably to the scheme of decoration in the apartment to which they are eventually assigned.

At the same time no really well ordered, up-to-date household, considering the comfort and happiness of its members, should neglect to provide a chest to which almost anything can be consigned during these warmer days.

Our assortment is very large, and includes practically every needed size and shape, from a miniature box to a stunning affair worthy of a Newport Villa. The chests are strongly constructed of beautifully polished wood, with the corners brass bound, and when opened, the interiors exhale a most satisfying fragrance.

Good Clothes

during the season for which they were made

We have only ourselves to blame for this tremendous surplus of clothing we now have on hand. Business has been even better than we expected, but production is getting caught up with demand, and for the first time in a number of seasons all our orders, made extra large as a protection against continued shortage, have been 100% delivered.

We've mentioned several times this season that our goods were marked so low that we could not mark them down without entailing a serious financial loss. But we've decided to take our medicine right now and get out from under this over-stock while the getting out is good.

So you or any other man, young man or boy who wants a suit of clothes of known high quality—fine fabrics, correctly styled and extra well tailored—can step in here now and get exactly what you want at a price way under what you'd ordinarily expect to pay.

Removes Hairy Growths Without Pain or Bother

(Modes of Today)

It is not necessary to use a painful process to remove hairy growths, for with a little delatone handy you can keep the skin entirely free from these beauty destroyers. To remove hair, make a stiff paste with a little powdered delatone and water. Spread this on the hairy surface and in about 2 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. To guard against disappointment, be careful to get real delatone.—Advertisement.

To better accommodate

The thousands of customers who want our shoes at the prices quoted, which are less than our factory cost, we have opened an up-town store at 8 to 10 Hayward place, a step from Washington St., opposite the large building formerly occupied by W. & A. Bacon.

This sale will continue

Until every pair of shoes of our ½ million stock is sold.

Remember

This is not a money-making sale—just a case of desiring to unload in the quickest possible time.

We Started Something

We welcome with pleasure our fellow shoe manufacturers who are following in our wake, being forced to dispose of their surplus stocks, direct to the consumer, saving the public the middleman's profit and thereby crushing the great H. C. L. Our advice to the shopping public is to compare prices, taking make, style and dependability of wear into consideration. We know that our shoes made in our own three factories that are being sold at $2.95, $3.95 and $4.95 cannot be approached in value at any time or at any place.

N. B. The response to our sale is the talk of the shoe trade, and has spread like wildfire. Having disposed of hundreds of cases and knowing that we will continue to do so, we now feel that we can start our factories going at full time and keep our thousands of men and women employed. This sacrifice sale will continue until every pair of our $500,000 stock is sold.

Mexico in Revolution

—BY—

Vincente Blasco Ibanez

(Copyright by the Foreign Press Service, Inc.)

IV. MEXICO'S SORROW.

The politicians of the Mexican revolution know nothing about the United States. They have never, as a rule, been outside their own country. They also know nothing about Europe. But the ignorance they show on all matters touching the republics of Latin America so-called is beyond conception.

[illegible] a scheme [illegible] of Latin America [illegible] purpose was [illegible] power [illegible] United States [illegible] thought [illegible] face [illegible] should [illegible] never [illegible] friendly [illegible] of importance [illegible] South America.

Needless to say Mexico was [illegible] the leading role in the future [illegible] Argentina [illegible] in general.

[illegible] series of personal [illegible] is a characteristic of present day [illegible] in Mexico. [illegible] goes beyond the Mexican [illegible].

[illegible] Mexico [illegible] Americans [illegible] Mexican [illegible] Latin America [illegible] Buenos Aires [illegible] Mexico [illegible] the Mexican Republic.

COMPARED TO ARGENTINA.

"Excuse me, gentlemen," I said, "but [illegible] Buenos Aires [illegible] after the [illegible] cities of the United States Buenos Aires is the second Latin city in the world. It comes next to Paris. It is larger than Rome. It is larger than Madrid. The Argentine Republic is the second largest grain producing nation in the world—the United States alone exceeds her figures for cereals; as for meat, Argentina leads everybody."

"But Argentina has only seven million people," they answered proudly; "there are fifteen million Mexicans."

"That would let you out if it were a question of counting noses and ignoring quality. Those seven million people in Argentina produce ten times as much as you and they spend twice as much money abroad. That is why their commerce prospers. They export to the whole world. They are rich.

"And don't forget another thing. The population there is all white. They are not revolting all the time. They invite foreigners in to share their wealth, because they know that the greater the immigration, the faster their country will progress."

PROSPERITY OF BRAZIL.

I went on then to talk about Chile, with a population still smaller than that of Argentina. But Chile is utilizing all her resources above and under ground. Splendid mines, splendid agriculture! And she has built up national industries. [illegible] I continued, "leaves an unforgettable impression upon every foreigner who visits the country. She welcomes him with open arms. In the course of a whole century Chile has had but one real revolution."

Then we passed on to Uruguay. "Uruguay," I said, "was once a very troublous state. But now things have settled down there and the nation has been enjoying a prosperous era of peace. Uruguay has developed her natural wealth to such a point that her money tops world exchange.

"But don't forget one thing," I said. "All those nations are nations of whites. As for Brazil, her prosperity in recent years is phenomenal."

"Wait a minute," they interrupted. "Brazil has many negroes. The majority of the population is black."

"It doesn't matter which race is in the majority," I replied. "The only relevant question is the race and civilization of those in control. Brazil has always been governed by a [illegible] [illegible] people up to-date [illegible]. With [illegible] for twenty-five or [illegible] Brazil kept [illegible] [illegible]

SYRACUSE AND CORNELL FAVORITES IN COLLEGE CREW RACES

40,000 to Witness Lake Cayuga Regatta Tomorrow; Penn and Columbia Make Up Big Four

Ithaca, N. Y., June 18.—This picturesque little college town buzzed with excitement today as preparations were completed for the staging of the classic intercollegiate rowing regatta on Lake Cayuga tomorrow afternoon.

Finding itself suddenly thrust into the centre of the rowing stage to [illegible] for Poughkeepsie [illegible] about the task of entertaining the biggest crowd in its history in a businesslike manner and was ready [illegible] for the invasion of a [illegible] of rowing devotees. Cornell authorities believe that nearly 40,000 will witness tomorrow's races.

Overcast skies and threats of more rain greeted incoming visitors early today, and the coaches of the rival crews viewed the weather with dismay.

As the town begins to fill up with visitors evidence of the presence of sporting blood is beginning to crop up and a number of bets were registered today at even money, with Syracuse and Cornell favored in the betting.

Because of the inability of the rowing officials to arrange for an observation train here most of the spectators will be banked on Cayuga's shores near the finish line.

The spectators will be informed of the start of each race by the firing of a three-inch gun.

As the crews pass the mile point and cross the finish line colored smoked rockets will be set off to indicate the sequence of the shells in crossing the lines.

The regatta will not start till nearly sundown. The freshman eights will pull to the starting line at 6 o'clock. They will be followed by the junior varsity crews at either 6:30 or 7 o'clock, and the varsity event will be rowed a half hour later.

All four varsity crews—Columbia, Cornell, Syracuse and Penn—were reported in prime condition today, and if the weather is right one of the greatest [illegible] races in the history of the rowing association is expected.

WEATHER SUITS RACING TODAY

Vanitie Crew Confident They Will Turn Tables on Resolute from Now On

By CHARLES E. PARKER.

Newport, R. I., June 18.—For the [illegible] days, weather [illegible] suitable for yacht racing was offered early today, so the crews of the Resolute and Vanitie were hoping [illegible] toward [illegible] the wind before the hour of racing came.

Wednesday the yachts could not [illegible] because there was [illegible] the slightest breath of air stirring. On the holiday they were [illegible] because there was [illegible] of a gale accompanied by [illegible] downpour.

Vanitie Crew a Confident Lot

Despite the fact that their boat was [illegible] to 3 count, the [illegible] crew was a confident lot to [illegible]. They figured that the New Yorker had just about all the [illegible] was coming to her and [illegible] from now on victory would crown their efforts in the cup trial races.

The Resolute was equipped with a new [illegible] for today's race, the [illegible] caused by the postponements enabling the workmen from the Herreshoff yards to fit the new spread of canvas. Up to today's race three mainsails have been employed on the Resolute and none of these has proven very satisfactory. The skipper and crew of the Boston yacht were expecting much better results in the [illegible] race because of the new equipment.

Nate Siegal, Beachmont welterweight, will have Barney Adair of New York as an opponent in a twelve-round bout at Portsmouth, N. H., tonight. The contest is the most important that has been arranged by a Portsmouth promoter for several years. Siegal and Adair are [illegible] with the best men of their weight in the country and should furnish a lively engagement.

Boreas Balks 'Babe' in Try for 20th Homer

[illegible] Boreas, as [illegible] used to term [illegible] north wind, beat "Babe" [illegible] the swatting demon of the New York Yankees, out of his twentieth home run in the ninth inning of the game in which the New Yorkers sent the White Sox [illegible] a 7 to 2 defeat. The [illegible] on a previous trip to the [illegible] far over [illegible] for the [illegible] and [illegible] came up in [illegible] everybody was [illegible] repeat. But [illegible] north [illegible] and carried the [illegible] disappeared [illegible] on the wrong [illegible] post.

"Now you young people go for a stroll," Miss Cynthia suggested. "[illegible] can clear [illegible] what [illegible] left here."

"And I will help [illegible]," John Brandon said.

"Oh, no, Mr. Brandon!" Barbara and I w[ill] attend to [illegible]," Miss Cynthia began. But Barbara interrupted her.

"Charlie," she called, as young Halsted started towards his car. "Mayn't I please go with you for the boats?"

"You bet your sweet [illegible], may, Bab! Come along," was the ready response.

Seizing her by the arm, he almost lifted her into the auto, [illegible] then sprang to the chauffeur's seat himself.

Barbara Runs Away

"There's room for another chap here in front," he [illegible]. "Bab will sit between us."

Tom White made the third on the front seat, while three boys sat in [illegible]. B[illegible] was the only [illegible]

Five minutes after the departure of the car and its occupants the other young people were strolling along the edge of the lake as the chaperone had directed, and she and John Brandon were alone together.

The spinster began at once to [illegible].

"I am sorry that Barbara should have gone off in that impulsive way. But you must not judge her too harshly."

Her companion interposed quickly.

"You are mistaken, Miss Cynthia. [illegible] think that I judge her at all. [illegible] has a right to her own pleasure. [illegible]"

An Avowal of Love

"Ah, but that is just where the trouble is." Miss Cynthia came a step nearer to him and spoke hurriedly. "The child is not happy. That is why she is so excitable this evening [illegible] at any opportunity to keep from thinking."

"Why, what has happened? [illegible] pertinent question for me to ask, but I [illegible] hope that nothing serious has happened."

His companion shook her head.

"Oh [illegible] thoughts. And here before Barbara has been so [illegible] deep things [illegible] distressed when she [illegible] before and she can't understand."

She stopped abruptly and began [illegible] a receptacle [illegible] Brandon assist her. He was thinking very hard [illegible] Their task was soon completed and then the man spoke.

"I am sorry if Barbara is distressed."

Barbara's aunt interrupted him. "[illegible] distressed. I may have used that word, but that is not what I [illegible]. It is only that she has suddenly awakened to the realization that life and love—are here, and that she may miss the best. In other words, John, her eyes are opened."

"Opened!" he repeated softly. Then impulsively: "Cynthia—you must have seen that I love the child! There—I have said it. Sometimes I have almost dared hope, then I have been afraid that some younger man, Robert Eliot, for instance—"

Miss Cynthia checked him. "You have nothing to fear from any young man, John. As for Robert Eliot—Barbara is done with him forever. I am in her confidence, so I know all about that."

Household Suggestions

Blankets are much improved if beaten with a carpet sweeper after they have been washed and thoroughly dried. This makes the wool nice and soft and the blankets are thus given a new and fluffy appearance.

When preparing vegetables or fruits that stain, a little grease rubbed on the thumb or forefinger will prevent that [illegible] appearance on the fingers usually so difficult to remove.

Paint smeared on glass may be removed with a cloth dipped in vinegar or acetic acid.

To keep cheese fresh wrap it in a cloth that has been dipped in vinegar and wrung as dry as possible. Keep in a cool place.

To remove ink stains from linen, pour melted tallow on the marks. Then wash the article and the ink and grease will both disappear.

When toothbrushes become soft it is possible to make them new again by cutting with a scissors an eighth of an inch off the bristles.

Caring For Your Clothes

By Rita Stuyvesant

DO you know how to plan your wardrobe according to your means? It is really an art to be well dressed on a limited income, and yet I know a girl who spends four times as much money per year as the average woman does on clothes, and she never really looks smart. One of the greatest secrets in good dressing is to select definite costumes instead of a hat now and a frock later and a pair of gloves for in between.

One woman who is always respected for her well groomed, attractive appearance, told me that she consents to the purchase of a smartly tailored suit of heavy material, fur trimmed if you will, an excellent investment.

Last Winter she purchased a suit of reindeer-colored velour, with a nutria collar, at a reliable shop. The initial investment was rather high, but when one considers that she is still wearing the suit to advantage the cost is comparatively small.

For daytime wear she chooses a tailored blouse of white washable silk and a black pressed beaver sailor hat. Brown kid gloves and low heel cordovan walking shoes complete this most fetching outfit.

When she goes to tea at the Ritz or plays bridge with her club, she dons an attractive hat of henna colored panne velvet, which she trimmed herself with a feather band of the same rich brick shade.

To give the appearance of a one piece frock when she removes her coat, she reveals a stunning overblouse of reindeer color crepe meteor, beautifully embroidered in copper thread. The blouse was a simple model that she cut from a pattern and had hemstitched together. The embroidery was stamped on and it was only the time of two afternoons to 'work' the artistic design. Pretty brown pumps with light tan spats complete this fashionable costume.

When the warm days of Spring come, my clever friend carefully removes the fur collar from her "best" suit and stores it away in camphor. She replaces it by an unusually smart vest of green, gold and black brocade, which she also made from a broad ribbon remnant.

Beautiful Actress Attributes Her Wonderful Success to Her Famous Complexion

Tells How You Also May Have One

MISS DOROTHY DALTON

New York.—When Miss Dorothy Dalton, the beautiful actress who was selected for the leading role [illegible] New York production, Aphrodite, was questioned as to the secret of her phenomenal success, she [illegible] said: "My complexion [illegible]. Everyone of my friends always raved about the texture and [illegible] of my skin, and I have [illegible] my first engagement was made possible through [illegible] I think the best asset any girl or woman [can] have is a beautiful skin and complexion. It is easy to have [illegible] will spend only a little time in [illegible] care of the skin. A girl may have irregular features, but if she possesses a beautiful complexion she will attract attention everywhere. I am always glad to tell any girl or woman how she may possess [illegible]. Here is the secret: Night and morning clean the skin [illegible] with warm water, then apply a good cold cream [illegible] to be the best; after massaging it into the skin take off the superfluous cream with a soft cloth. Then before going out during the day or evening I apply Derwillo, a simple toilet preparation which can be purchased at the toilet counter of any up-to-date drug or department store. The first application of this wonderful Derwillo will astonish you. It imparts instant beauty to the skin and makes a rosy-white complexion—every one will talk about it. I find it excellent for my complexion as it protects my skin in all kinds of weather. That's why I prefer it to all other toilet preparations and am never without it. Now that short sleeves are in vogue you will want beautiful hands and arms. There is nothing like Derwillo for this purpose. Many of my professional friends to whom I have recommended Derwillo use it in preference to all other face powders or beautifiers." Just try it once before going to the theatre, dances, parties or an afternoon call and note the favorable comments of your friends. Derwillo instantly puts a lifelike tint on your cheeks which defies detection. It takes the place of face powder and stays on until you wash it off. Perspiration does not affect it nor will it rub off on clothing. It also prevents the nose and face from shining. It's wonderful for a dark, sallow, rough skin, black-heads, coarse pores, oily skin, freckles, tan and for the instant beauty it imparts. Over 100,000 girls and women are using it. It's absolutely harmless to the most sensitive skin. Just try it once and you will need no further argument to convince you that there is nothing "just as good," "better," or "just like it." Insist on Derwillo, then you will not be disappointed.

NOTE—Druggists and department stores everywhere sell Derwillo with the guarantee that if you don't like it you get your money back. It is the one beautifier that gives satisfaction at all seasons of the year. You can secure it at all toilet counters in this city.

ABOUT OUR GOOD FRIEND Wanamaker

Copyright, 1920, by The Ledger Syndicate.

WANAMAKER VARIATIONS — Wannemaker, Wannemacher.

RACIAL ORIGIN—German.

SOURCE—Occupational.

IT is the second of the variations used above which gives the clearest indication of the source of the name Wanamaker.

As a family name it is of distinctly German origin. It is not traceable at all in the old English records. Like an exceptionally large class of German names, it has developed from an occupation of the persons who originally bore it, and settled into use as a hereditary name, probably two or three centuries later than similar family names made their appearance in England.

It means bathmaker, a fact which also tends to show a later development. There is little record throughout northern European history that the bath was ever the function which the Romans made of it or that there were established public bathhouses or medical baths until a comparatively modern date. The inference then is that the original Wanamakers were bathmakers in the sense that they were artisans who fashioned the tubs or receptables used for bathing purposes.

This explanation is verified by the fact that the name is not at all unusual, either in this country or in Germany, indicating that it was adopted by many unrelated families. It would hardly be so common if it referred to employes of a bathhouse or established medical baths, because such institutions were exceedingly rare or non-existent in the late Middle Ages in Germany.

Tomorrow—Jeffries.

The Voice of Fame

"You remember Cheero Jones, who won first prize in the oratorical contest the year we graduated from college?" "Sure I do. Everybody predicted that he would be heard from before he was many years older. Ever hear what became of him?" "That's just what I was about to tell you. I ran across him yesterday calling out trains in a Midland station."

The Harmless Way to Use Face Powder.

It is putting powder over face cream that is so bad for the complexion. This foolish method clogs the pores, coarsens the skin, causing enlarged pores and blackheads. A good face cream used properly is an excellent beautifier, but it should be used only at night when retiring. The cream should be thoroughly washed out of the pores of the skin before powder is applied in the morning. The trouble is most powders are made so light they will not stay on except over face cream. But it is now very easy to get a pure, harmless, face powder that will stay on by itself, that will stay on until you wash it off. The best pure powder we know of that will really stay on is pure La-may. Every time you use this pure La-may Face Powder you will give your skin a real beauty treatment. It contains an ingredient doctors recommend for the complexion. You can put La-may on as heavily as you like or very lightly, according to how much you wipe it off. If you really value the blessing of a lovely complexion, you will always use this pure La-may. There is a thousand dollar guarantee of purity printed on the box, certifying that it does not contain rice powder, white lead or any harmful substance. Because La-may is so pure and because it stays on perfectly, without the use of a cold cream base, it is now used by over a million American women. When you see how wonderfully this pure, harmless, and inexpensive La-may beautifies your complexion, you will understand why it is the most popular beauty powder sold in New York.

A Few Directions

Now when Jane and I first used to go to market [illegible] right [illegible] Plymouth Rock Phosphated [illegible] Plymouth Rock Gelatine [illegible] When you add fruit [illegible] Jane has no [illegible]

The Right Way

I always had a desire to make salt codfish dishes for my family, but somehow I was always disappointed in the results. Sometimes the fish would be salt [illegible] and even after hours of soaking. Sometimes, again, it would be fresh enough but flabby.

I got so it's impossible to find a good salt codfish, I told my grocer one day when Jane and I were in the market.

"Not at all, madam," he answered, holding up a package of Gorton's Boneless Codfish. I [illegible] that package and had codfish on toast for [illegible]. So Gorton's was introduced to my family.

For Pickling Day

Now Jane and I, many years ago, decided to be very cautious about pickles. That is why we try to pick enough tomatoes and cucumbers ourselves for a year's supply. And since we have been pickling [illegible] time we have become discriminating as to spices. There are pickle spices that are deadly, they are so strong. There are others so poorly blended that a cook naturally thinks of disinfectant when [illegible] to use them. But Slade's Spices neither discolor the cucumber if preserved whole, nor do they take away the natural flavor of the vegetable. [illegible] delicacy they accentuate it. Which is the reason Jane and I always keep a complete line of Slade's Spices in our kitchen cabinets.

An Experiment

I like to experiment with prepared foods. I made a discovery the other day. I wanted a mushroom sauce for the steak and the marketman's mushrooms were poor. So I made a brown sauce and added five tablespoonfuls of Gossom's Mushroom Soup. It gave the same delicious mushroom flavor. My family was delighted.

Take Your Choice—They're All Good

As housekeepers [illegible] This is why Drake's Cake is a favorite with [illegible] Drake's Cake [illegible] cakes. That's why Jane and I, when we need a bit of cake, just take down the telephone and order Drake's. For we know that the standard of Drake's Cake never varies.

Crisped Toast

If the proof of the pudding is in the eating, as we have heard ever since we were children, certainly the proof of the bread is in the toast. I always can tell the worth of the bread by the toast [illegible] Hathaway's Bread [illegible] wonderful toast [illegible] Because it is wonderful bread to start.

The Guarantee Protects You

"If you are not thoroughly convinced that DANIEL WEBSTER FLOUR has produced the best bread you ever baked after you have used an entire sack of it, return the empty sack to the dealer, leave your name with [illegible] and the purchase price will be refunded [illegible] EAGLE ROLLER MILL CO.

Trifles Count

As we were [illegible] the other day my neighbor [illegible] people not too particular would say we were just plain cranks to insist upon them. But as we [illegible] agreed it is the little things that build health and strength and beauty for our children. Which was suggested to us by the way our babies' Hood's M.D. is bottled. Never a hand touches the bottle or the cap. But the cap is attached by means of sterilized machinery. We know it's germ proof. Quite different from the way some milk is capped with an unsterilized cap in the soiled hands of a careless milkman.

Uncle John's Maple Syrup Taffy

"Come gather round, children," said little Mrs. Smith, "the next [illegible] for we're going to have a[n] Uncle John's Maple Syrup Candy Pull. Here's the recipe for taffy:

[illegible] cup Uncle John's Maple Syrup
[illegible]
[illegible] square of chocolate
[illegible] teaspoon vanilla

Now put the ingredients in a saucepan and boil till the liquid forms to a hard ball when dropped in cold water. Add the vanilla and pour into a greased dish to cool. Separate the taffy into pieces and pull until the taffy is right to [illegible]. This is the way, my dears, to make Uncle John's Maple Syrup Taffy."

The Reason Why

Now little Mrs. Smith was talking with her neighbor about the high cost of butter. A momentous question today, ladies. And said little Mrs. Smith to her neighbor:

"Seventy-six cents a pound I'm paying now. Pretty high, my dear."

"Why don't you use Spreditt and save money?" asked her neighbor.

"But butter substitutes never are like butter," objected little Mrs. Smith.

"Then you don't know Spreditt," her neighbor told her. "You see, Spreditt is made by an old Danish [illegible]. The Danes know how. Why don't you try Spreditt?"

"Why, I'll try Spreditt," agreed Mrs. Smith, "as my husband says [illegible]."

She tried Spreditt, liked it, and has been using it ever since.

In Cooking

I think the housewife who has adopted Forster's Peanut Butter never really knows how good it is till she has used it in candy. Home made chocolates are so good if you use Forster's as a filling for some of them. The [illegible] peanuts make such a delicious contrast to the sweet chocolate. But there are many other ways of utilizing Forster's in cooking. For instance, a bread pudding made with a layer of Forster's between two layers of bread crumbs mixed with egg and milk and sugar is a delicious mystery. This pudding, served with a lemon sauce, thanks to Forster's, is a dessert fit for the queen.

All Sound Berries

I believe in honest values. That is why I long ago chose White House Coffee for my table. For I visited the factory where Whitehouse Coffee is manufactured and I admired the precision with which the small coffee berries, and the broken or shrivelled berries were rejected. Whitehouse Coffee is from all sound berries.

Baldness Conquered

A veteran business man, who was almost completely bald and had tried tonics, lotions, shampoos, etc., in vain, came across an Indians' elixir by which he grew a complete crop of healthy hair he now possesses. The hair elixir is called "KOTALKO." Others—men and women—have reported remarkable aid to hair growth, relief from dandruff, cessation of falling hair by using Kotalko.

When Bald

In a vast number of cases, when hair falls out, the roots are not dead, but remain for some time imbedded in the scalp, like seeds or bulbs, needing only fertility. The usual hair tonics, etc., are of no avail. The Indians' method is purposed to nourish the hair and stimulate the growth. It costs so little to try Kotalko it would be a pity to lose the boon which this might bring to you.

Wonderful results reported. For men's, women's and children's hair. If you are bald, or losing hair, or have dandruff, you should try KOTALKO; it may be what's needful for your scalp and in such case it is a pleasure to observe the starting of new hair and its steady increase until prolific growth. You may obtain a full box of genuine Kotalko at any busy drug store. Or a proof box will be mailed if you send 10 cents, silver or stamps, to John Hart Brittain, Station F, New York, N. Y.

Combing Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

LIFT OFF CORNS, MAGIC! NO PAIN

Drop Freezone on a touchy corn, then lift that corn off with fingers

Tiny bottles cost only a few cents.

Drop a little Freezone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. It doesn't pain one bit. Yes, magic!

Why wait? Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of Freezone for a few cents, sufficient to rid your feet of every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and calluses, without soreness or irritation. Freezone is the much talked of ether discovery of a Cincinnati genius.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestents are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

Local Market Reopens After Holiday With a Better Tone; Curb Tone Firmer

The Boston market had a strong opening after the holiday and remained firm during the morning. It was quiet, however, and the price improvement was not marked, gains as well as losses ruling small. Warren Brothers advanced 2¼ during the first hour, while Swift & Co. and Waltham Watch receded a point.

Among issues to make fractional gains were East Butte, New Cornelia, Carson Hill, Eastern Manufacturing, Libby, Root and Van Dervoort and Bigheart.

Issues to sell a fraction lower included Massachusetts Gas, United Shoe and National Leather.

Issues on the ex-dividend list were American Telephone, Boston and Providence, Eastern Manufacturing, Ohio Body, Root and Van Dervoort, United Fruit, Western Union, Torrington and Daly West.

TONE IMPROVED.

The Curb market was irregular at the opening, but the tone soon improved, and it was strong during the morning, active issues advancing. At the start, stocks to show losses were Crystal, Eureka, Gilliland, Imperial, Mutual Trust and Pilgrim, while those to advance included Canada Mexico, Simms Petroleum, Texana, Boston & Montana and Denbigh.

At the end of an hour Arizona Silver was up 1 cent at 51 cents, Hecla Divide 1 cent at 7 cents, Imperial 1 cent at 16 cents, Canada Mexico ½ at 12½, and United Verde at 32⅛. Gilliland was off 2 at 34.

Company Profits and Market Profits

It is a time-worn and oft-repeated belief that earnings are the all important factor in the determination of market values.

A study of present earnings and the accumulated earnings of the past five years as related to the present level of prices makes it clearly apparent that the earnings factor in recent markets has been overshadowed by temporary influences.

What is likely to happen when attention is again riveted on earnings and assets, particularly in the case of thoroughly seasoned dividend paying stocks that are now at the lowest price levels reached in years, and prospects for a sharp forward spurt developing in such stocks immediately following the Presidential conventions outlined in the Current Market Review

Cotton Market Opening

New York, June 18.—After a steady opening, with prices four points lower to 6 points higher, the cotton market turned weak and sold about 15 points under last night's close. At the end of twenty minutes the list was heavy at a net decline of about 24 points. Opening prices were: July, 37.40; October, 31.45; December, 33.30; January, 32.53; March, 32.06; May, 31.66.

Mohawk Declares Dividend

New York, June 18.—The directors of the Mohawk Mining Company have declared a quarterly dividend of $1.50, payable August 2 to stock of record July 10. Three months ago $1.50 and nine months ago $1 were paid.

STEEL ISSUES ARE WEAK

Oils and Equipments Strong, Motors Are Mixed and Rails Firm

By W. H. ROSS,
Financial Editor.

Stocks were irregular in New York at noon, the list being about evenly divided between advances and declines. Steels were rather weak, but oils and equipments were strong. Rails were firm and motors mixed as to price changes, but had a downward tendency as a whole.

The price movement was not pronounced in either direction. Oils improved in the second hour. Trading was more active than yesterday, first hour transactions totalling nearly 160,000 shares. The Thursday session was the dullest in a year and half. Call loans renewed this morning at 7 per cent. Liberty bonds ruled a little higher.

HIGHER AT OPENING.

The market had a firm start, the majority of issues being up, but gains were small as a rule. Barrett was an exception. It began with an advance of more than a point and was up three soon. National Aniline did not follow. Replogle began a shade lower and soon was off more than three points. Steels were steady at the opening, but developed a heavy tone. Crucible was less active than it has ruled of late and moved up and down within a narrow range. Traders were disappointed by the latest dividend declaration by its board. Vanadium was active and receded a point after making a small gain. Oils were firm, but did not move forward far. Mexican Petroleum was the strongest of the group. Motors showed small changes in either direction. Rails had a very narrow movement and developed no definite trend. There was profit taking at the end of thirty minutes or so and the market reflected this by a slight reaction. At the end of the first hour the list was irregular.

NO LIFE TO RAILS.

Offerings of rails were on a small scale, but demand was equally light. They did not improve as a class because Northern Pacific directors declared the usual quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent. This imparted confidence as to the railway situation because of fear that this road would follow the example of Chicago & Northwestern and reduce its rate. In regard to the Northern Pacific declaration, President Howard Elliott said no other action had been contemplated. It was said that this remark is of especial significance because Mr. Elliott is chairman of the Railway Executives Rate Committee, and that body has been in constant touch with the Interstate Commerce Commission in regard to new rates. "Should," says a statement printed in New York, "a 6 per cent. return on the property investment be decided upon, Northern Pacific would be assured of a net operating income of $30,000,000, sufficient to insure the continuation of the present 7 per cent. dividend."

COMMODITY PRICES ARE SLOW TO FALL

In regard to statements that prices have begun to fall, any rapid movement in that direction is not observed as yet by the executive head of a great New England corporation which buys annually 2,300 commodities. He says:

"In a few instances there have been genuine declines. Leather, shoes, burlaps, low-grade wools, silks, and one or two other lines have declined rather sharply, but the vast majority of instances our purchasing department is still confronted with high prices, short supplies and uncertain deliveries. Credit stringency ought to make itself felt before long, but just now demand is the biggest factor in the price equation."

U. S. and Canadian Trade

During April this year Canada's trade with the United States increased $20,000,000 as compared with the corresponding month of the preceding year. This country sold about $10,000,000 more products to the Dominion, while its imports increased as much. As to totals, Canadian buying amounted to $68,628,026, and her sales to the United States totalled $40,508,735. The trade between the two countries for the ten months ended with April amounted to $1,135,980,875, an increase of nearly $60,000,000. United States sales to Canada increased $15,555,928, and United States purchases from Canada $44,382,044.

Manchester, N. H., awarded a temporary loan of $250,000, dated June 15, and payable Dec. 20, 1920, to Manchester Safety Deposit & Trust Company at 6.90 per cent. plus $3.50 premium.

Swampscott, Mass., will receive proposals until 8 p. m. June 24, 1920, for $153,000 of school and water loan bonds dated July 1 and maturing annually up to 1945.

Net before taxes earned in the first four months of 1920 by the Consolidated Cigar Corporation amounted to $864,839 and for April alone to $283,830.

May Ingot Production

The estimated May production of steel ingots, according to the Iron Age, was about 3,430,000 tons, a gain of 10 per cent. from April. The industry was surprised that the total for the past five months was at a yearly rate of 41,400,000 tons, pointing to the possibility that 1920 may yet be one of the three great years in steel.

New Osage Nation Oil Wells

What is said to be one of the most valuable oil discoveries in the Osage Nation in recent years is reported in a telegram by President C. B. Peters of the Peters Oil Co., a Middle States subsidiary. He wires:

"Round-up of the week ended June 12 in the famous shallow pool discovered on April 5, 1920, shows seven wells have been completed and are producing. These are 560 feet deep, produce as high as 100 barrels per well and none less than 70; five additional wells now drilling on the 540-acre lease, all of

MEASURES THAT WOULD CURE MOST OF THE TROUBLES AND TENDENCIES WHICH DISTRESS AND ALARM US TODAY

(1) To nominate for the Presidency by direct nomination and to elect by popular vote.
(2) To elect the Cabinet officers and make them responsible to Congress.
(3) To deprive the President of the power of patronage; to put all public offices as nearly as possible under Civil Service, and have appointments made by a committee of Congress.
(4) To elect Federal Judges, including the Supreme Court Justices, by popular vote.
(5) To apply the Initiative, the Referendum and the Recall to national matters.

Call of the Forty-eight for Creation of a New Party

This paper said on June 14:

When men know what they mean to do, when they make important decisions or adopt a definite course of action, they always use very few words.

The Republican platform contained 6,396 words, but no one can tell what most of the planks mean. They express no purpose or policy beyond recapture of office spoils and power.

Contrast this prolixity with the 145-word platform adopted in St. Louis last December by the Committee of Forty-eight and submitted to liberal thought as a basis for a new party:

(1) Public ownership of transportation, including stockyards, large abattoirs, grain elevators, terminal warehouses, pipe lines and tanks. Public ownership of other public utilities and of the principal natural resources, such as coal, oil, natural gas, mineral deposits, large water powers and large commercial lumber tracts.

(2) No land (including natural resources) and no patents to be held out of use for speculation to aid monopoly. We favor taxes to force idle land into use.

(3) Equal economic, political and legal rights for all, irrespective of sex or color. The immediate and absolute restoration of free speech, free press, peaceable assembly and all civic rights guaranteed by the Constitution. We demand the abolition of injunctions in labor cases. We endorse the effort of labor to share in the management of industry and labor's right to organize and bargain collectively through representatives of its own choosing.

This platform does not meet with the full approval of all liberals nor exhaust the topics which require inclusion in an adequate national platform.

But besides putting much in little, it has the high merit of saying definitely what the platform makers mean.

This is so not because the framers of this 145-word tentative platform were abler men than the framers of the 6,396-word Republican platform or more skilled in the use of language.

It was because they were SINCERE men who wanted to say just what they BELIEVED.

There are millions of citizens who are not satisfied with the voluminous standpat platform of the Republican convention. It is evasive and cowardly on every issue upon which people are thinking and on which parties should divide except Mr. Wilson's league covenant, which is condemned.

There is no reason to expect that the Democratic convention will do any better.

Mr. Wilson's policy of government by personal dictation has broken up his Cabinet, disrupted his party, and left it adrift without compass or rudder or chart, except its commitment to international policies and secret agreements, secretly arrived at, with imperialist financiers and diplomatists of Europe.

Mr. Wilson has committed his sorry followers in the Senate to an unworkable peace treaty which is admitted by its European authors to be a failure.

His abandonment of his earlier policies as to the railroads, the Shipping Board, the Federal Trade Commission; his persistence in war on Russia and the adoption by his Department of Justice of Czarist police methods of force for this country have left the Democratic party without any constructive policy that it can defend as to the past three years or affirm for the next four.

Its present policies as to the power of corporations, as to labor, as to the soldiers' bonus, as to profiteering, as to excess profits taxes are as shifty, timid and insincere as the Republican—are, indeed, a weak imitation of the Republican.

As to prohibition, for which the Democratic party might justly claim full credit for having submitted the constitutional amendment to the several States for ratification, and for having passed, in the meantime, the wartime prohibition act, Mr. Wilson's fatal vacillation destroyed his party's standing even on that issue by vetoing the Volstead Prohibition Enforcement act, which a Republican Congress passed over his veto, with the help of some Democratic votes.

The Republicans in National Convention then destroyed for themselves whatever virtue this record implied by refusing to ratify or confirm what a Republican Congress did on prohibition and by dodging the whole subject.

As neither the Republican nor the Democratic party any longer stands for any of the issues which gave those parties life and vitality in the past, it is high time for a new party to raise this year a standard to which all honest men may repair.

Progressive citizens in great numbers have utterly lost confidence in both the old parties. They want a NEW party and a NEW deal.

Their discontent with the old parties and their aspiration for a new party are manifested in the various new political groupings—not yet clearly defined—such as the Non-Partisan League in the Northwest, the Labor Party springing up in various cities and other social welfare organizations that have given up hope of obtaining progressive legislation from either of the old parties.

Until these groups unite, increase, and quicken into a broad movement with a platform tersely and clearly expressing the convictions of the people on a few vital issues, "Invisible Government" by special interests will go on.

The Committee of Forty-eight has done well to summon a convention of all earnest progressives to meet in Chicago July 10.

If all the men and women in the United States who want a political housecleaning will join to effect it, the task will be achieved.

By K. C. B.

DEAR K. C. B.—Not very far away from a busy business street I found one year ago a modest house of brick. I was attracted to it because on Summer evenings some one sat in the parlor of this house and played softly and sweetly on the piano. I have no money for amusement and this became my evening's entertainment. I strolled there every night and listened until the music ceased and then went home.

This Spring when the warm nights came and windows were again opened I found my way back and the music was still there. But a week ago the curtains were down and the house was vacant. And just last night I went again through habit and found the ruthless hand of business tearing away the bricks and beams.

Won't you say a word for me to whoever it was who played for me?

HENRY STATLER.

DEAR HENRY.
• • •
I WONDER.
• • •
IF IT could be.
• • •
THAT WHOEVER it was.
WHO PLAYED for you.
WAS A girl I know.
WHO TOLD me once.
THAT ON Summer nights.
IT WAS her joy.
TO PLAY for you.
OR WHOEVER it was.
WHO CAME one night.
AS SHE sat and played.
AND HID himself.
IN A shadowy place.
ACROSS THE street.
AND NEVER moved.
TILL SHE was through.
AND SHE told me, too.
THAT WHEN you came.
OR WHOEVER it was.
• • •
SHE WAS playing for.
• • •
SHE MADE up her mind.
THAT ON every night.
SO LONG as you came.
• • •
YOU WOULD find her there.
AND SO she played.
AND I'M quite sure.
SHE'D WANT you to know.
THAT WHEN Fall came.
AND WINDS blew chill.
AND SHE sat inside.
WITH THE windows down.
AND NO one came.
TO THE shadowy place.
ACROSS THE street.
FOR TWO or three nights.
SHE JUST sat there.
AND DIDN'T play.
SHE TOLD me this.
AND SHE further said.
THAT SHE didn't know.
IF YOU were a tramp.
• • •
OR A derelict.
OR A ball room boy.
OR A hen-pecked man.
AND SHE didn't care.
AND, ANYWAY, Henry.
I'LL TELL her for you.
• • •
THAT YOU miss her much.
AND I'LL give her your thanks.
THAT SHE didn't quit.
TILL THEY pulled the building.
FROM ABOUT her head.

I THANK you.

American Scientist Battles White Cannibals in the Amazon

WHEN the Titanic sank, one of those who went to an ocean grave was George D. Widener, the Philadelphia multi-millionaire. His widow, a noted society beauty, married Dr. Alexander Hamilton Rice, the wealthy scientist and explorer, who has residences in New York, Boston and Newport.

Mrs. Rice recently escaped a fate more tragic and distressing than that which befell her first husband. That fate was nothing less than the prospect of becoming a meal for fierce South American savages.

Dr. Rice who had penetrated some distance into the jungle with other members of the exploring expedition, has given the Boston Sunday Advertiser a graphic account of the life and death battle which his party waged against several hundred giant cannibals—white cannibals, according to Dr. Rice.

His story occupies two full pages in the Magazine Section of next Sunday's Boston Sunday Advertiser. Be sure to read it.

Persons who do not like the configurations of their noses may have them sliced off and remodeled nearer to their hearts' desire. A grand opera prima donna, Margaret Namara, has just submitted to such an operation with entire success. The new nose is an improvement.

But Madame Namara now wishes she had her old nose back again, for her husband, who was not consulted before the operation was performed, declares that he fell in love with the old nose, not the newly constructed one. Friends of the couple hope he will become acclimated to it, so to speak, in time to avert a domestic tragedy. The story and pictures, describing this interesting and clever operation, are in Sunday's Boston Advertiser.

The "shimmy" dance, outlawed as a drawing room accomplishment, now comes to the fore as a highly valuable beauty treatment—for the boudoir only. V. Persis Dewey of the American National Association of Dancing Masters has written a special article, illustrated with photographs, for the Boston Sunday Advertiser, in which he discusses the scientific application of the much-condemned "shimmy." It appears in the Magazine Section next Sunday.

Love has rescued fashionable Miss Sedgwick from the prosaic life of a working girl. When Adelaide, belle of New York and Newport in her richer days, went to work in a dressmaking establishment, it was generally accepted by her friends that, whatever else she had done, she had ruined her chances of making a good marriage.

HELPING OUT IN OTHER DEPARTMENTS

It may be that your ambition is keeping you from definite progress.

You spend so much time helping others in their work that you slight your own job.

You may be anxious to learn all the departments, but if you give yourself too little time to keep your own department in shipshape, and your hurry results in errors, the effect of these errors will damage you so much personally that you will lose all you gain.

Satisfaction in the place you serve comes before anything you can do to help out in other departments.

This does not mean that you shold leg in your work so that you won't have to help any one else.

Employers should give due credit to the man who is so interested in the success of the firm that he is willing to go beyond the boundaries of his own little job to help the others along and make a bigger production possible.

WOMEN ARE MUCH TOO EASILY DUPED

By Winifred Black

THE man who's married twenty-eight wives has been caught and put in jail.

And now he says he's crazy, as crazy as a loon—however crazy that may be and whatever a loon is when it is at home.

Insane? Well, how could he be anything else and marry twenty-eight women, just for fun?

I know hundreds of men who are almost as insane as that. They make love to twice twenty-eight women, and go through all the transports and the agonies of a genuine passion. But they stop—just short of the altar and the penitentiary.

They say some madmen can watch themselves, and stop being crazy at exactly the right time.

But these women who married this man. They are all kinds—old and young, plain and pretty, stupid and one or two supposed to be rather clever—blonde and brunette, vivacious and flirtatious, calm and demure, stately and dignified. He had no preference—he married one after another, without showing the slightest partiality to any particular type.

But what was there about him that so fascinated these women, that each one was ready to follow a comparative stranger about the world, leave her own friends, her own family, her own home and go with him? He's not a handsome man nor brilliant nor fascinating. He says himself that what he did was to promise each woman a nice home and a good, big automobile.

A home and a motor car—that was the bait he used. Poor things, how many lonesome, unattached, unfriended women there are, wandering through the world in a kind of daze, hoping always to meet somewhere he hero of their dreams—somebody with a good home and a motor car. That's all they ask.

Character, reputation, stability, something to lean upon—poof! what are these idle things to them? What they want is a roof over their heads and a motor car to sit in, and roll away from the roof whenever they are so disposed.

How lightly some women enter into marriage. They wouldn't give away an old sewing machine, or even an old hat, without knowing something about the person to whom they are giving it. But themselves—their whole lives, their own self-respect, their own clean, honest, independent way of living—flip at the toss of a coin—away they go!

The man who did all this marrying may be crazy, but I prophesy here and now that some of the women who married him are crazy, too.

Letters to the Editor

Asset, Not a Liability

Editor Boston American:

Permit me to commend you for your article entitled "Every Eligible American Boy Should Be a Boy Scout," which appeared in your issue of June 12. The Boy Scout movement to the nation will always be an asset, not a liability, and for every eligible American boy to belong to the largest boy organization in the world is an honor.

The Scout Oath and Law are unshakable pillars in the bridge to good citizenship, and if they were applied to our daily lives and taught to the immigrant we would not be sending back across the ocean Soviet Arks well laden with human freight. The Scout Oath and Law, which every boy learns before he is accepted for enrolment, is the best plank for 100 per cent. solid Americanism for the youth of the nation today.

WHEN EARTH WAS HUGE MOLTEN MASS

By Garrett P. Serviss

"We have learned that centuries ago our earth was one great fire but gradually has diminished until now it is hardly noticeable, only in great depths under the floor of the earth and by volcanic action present at this day. My question is, when and how this great fire was created and why it has decreased. Is it due to our sun traveling further from our planet, and did our sun commence this action?—R. C. T., General Electric Company, Schenectady."

THE "one great fire," as you call it, probably consisted of a mass of matter, now differentiated, at least in the exterior portions, into rocks, metals and other minerals, which mass may, on account of the great heat, have been not merely liquid, but vaporous, though held by its great gravitative force in a more or less rigid state.

Fire, in the true sense of that word, there was none. Moreover, the period that you have in mind occurred not centuries but many millions of years ago. "Centuries" is a word chronologically as inadequate to describe such a span of time as "seconds" would be in speaking of the length of a man's life.

This would be hypercriticism but for the fact that the use in connection with planetary evolution of a time unit currently associated with the brief duration of recorded human history gives to many minds a totally wrong impression of the vastness of the geological and pre-geological ages.

Variously Explained

The origin of the primal molten, and perhaps vaporous, stage of the earth has been variously explained. According to the well-known nebular theory of Laplace, it was the result of a progressive condensation of nebulous matter, aggregating under the laws of attraction about a central nucleus.

Indeed, that theory pictures for us a time when the substance of our planet existed in the form of a nebulous ring surrounding the sun and assumes that this ring broke up and afterward collected all its substance into the ball we call the earth. By the transformation of the kinetic energy of the particles of the mass, as they drew into closer association and collided with one another, into heat energy, the forming earth acquired a high temperature.

A later hypothesis, the "planetesimal theory," assumes that the earth was formed by the falling together, at a gravitational "knot," of vast numbers of revolving fragments (the "planetesimals.") These fragments, traveling in a multitude of involved and intersecting orbits, are supposed to have been produced by a collision, or a close, disrupting approach of two immense pre-existing bodies, one perhaps a "living" and the other a "dead" sun.

But, whichever of the two rival theories we adopt, we find that we are led to a stage in the earth's history when its mass was partly or perhaps wholly molten or vaporous, and intensely heated. Being surrounded on all sides by the cold of space, the heated ball parted with its thermal store by radiation.

Little Evidence

No body can remain permanently at a temperature above that of its surroundings unless it possesses a never-failing means of constantly restoring its own energy, or unless such restoration can be effected from without. This loss of temperature by the earth has not been caused by a change in its distance from the sun, a distance which we have no reason to suppose has been materially altered since the formation of the solar system.

As to the present condition of the earth's interior, we have not much evidence except that which is of an inferential nature, and this is variously interpreted. The opinion once widely held, that the core of the earth is a mass of liquid fire, has given way in consequence of the discovery, through the study of the phenomena of earthquakes and "earth-tides," that the entire globe behaves as if its body were as rigid as steel or glass.
